New York, Dec. 22 (P)-Life will be safer for infielders in 1950 if the new baseball rules are enforced.

The rules committee officially adopted the new code last night after nine months of strenuous effort. The rough stuff around second base came in for plenty of attention. "Intereference" by a base runner-was interpreted in simple, direct terms that place a heavy burden on the umpire. The ump always had to call interference, but now his attention is directed to the rule in specific wordage.

"A batter is out when a preceding runner shall, in the judgment of the umpire, interfere with an infielder," the rule will read.

That's about the same as in the past. However, a new interpretative paragraph has been added. It goes like this: "The objective of this rule is to penalize the offensive team for deliberate, unwarranted and unsportsmanlike action by a runner in leaving the baseline for the obvious purpose of crashing the pivot man on a double play rather than trying to reach his base."

The White Roses have defeated Camp Hill, Gettysburg, Coatesville and Hanover in four starts and are now being acclaimed as a strong contender to repeat as District 3 PIAA champions.

Halting Carson Lovett, tall center of the York outfit, will be a major problem for the Warriors. In their first meeting at York last week when they lost 28-25, the locals blanked Lovett without a point but since that time he has sparked York to two victories.

The unbeaten York reserves will seek to repeat the one-sided victory recorded a week ago when the jayvees meet at 6:45 o'clock.

Penny Snowballs Into $125 Present

Pittsburgh, Dec. 22 (AP)—A boy's penny that snowballed into $125 since June provided a Christmas present for Boys Town today.

Placed aboard an airplane this morning by a 10-car delegation from nearby Clairton and Elizabeth, the gift represents an accumulation of "tips" collected in Dan Girard's confectionary in Elizabeth.

Girard said the whole thing started six months ago when 11-year-old Joe Bucy tossed a penny on the floor and told him to keep the tip. Dan didn't know why, but he glued the penny to a closet door. Told by Dan that the penny was a tip, other children thought it a clever idea and left money to glue on the door. quarters and half-dollars.

NEW BASEBALL CODE GIVES AID TO INFIELDERS

New York, Dec. 22 (A)-Life will be safer for infielders in 1950 if the new baseball rules are enforced.

The rules committee officially adopted the new code last night after nine months of strenuous effort. The rough stuff around second base came in for plenty of attention.

"Intereference" by a base runner was interpreted in simple, direct terms that place a heavy burden on the umpire. The ump always had to call interference, but now his attention is directed to the rule in specific wordage.

"A batter is out when a preceding runner shall, in the judgment of the umpire, interfere with an infielder," the rule will read.

"The objective of this rule is to penalize the offensive team for deunwarranted and unsportsmanlike action by a runner in leaving the baseline for the obvious purpose of crashing the pivot man on a double play rather than trying to reach his base."

York's Unbeaten 5 Will Oppose GHS Here This Evening

York high, believed to be one of the best teams which will appear here this season, tangles with the Gettysburg high cagers on the local floor this evening.

The White Roses have defeated Camp Hill, Gettysburg, Coatesville and Hanover in four starts and are now being acclaimed as a strong contender to repeat as District 3 PIAA champions.

Halting Carson Lovett, tall center of the York outfit, will be a major problem for the Warriors. In their first meeting at York last week when they lost 28-25, the locals blanked Lovett without a point but since that time he has sparked York to two victories.

The unbeaten York reserves will seek to repeat the one-sided victory recorded a week ago when the jayvees meet at 6:45 o'clock.

Washington, Dec. 22 (P)-Senator Ives (R.-N.Y.) said today the best sign the bipartisan foreign policy is effective lies "in the mess the administration has made in handling affairs where it doesn't apply."

In an interview, Ives criticized the administration's decisions on Nationalist China and some of its actions with regard to Israel. Both, he said, are outside the scope of the bipartisan foreign policy which Senator Vandenberg (R.-Mich.) defined yesterday as "a mutual effort under our indispensable two-party system to unite our official voice at the water's edge."

Vandenberg said he expects to continue support of the policy in the next-session of Congress.

THESE TALKS

These talks are written to share with others the joys, thrills, and satisfactions that have meant much to me. Their purpose has been inspirational, to try to give hope where it has ebbed, to stimulate faith, and to obliterate fear from people's lives. If they have done any one of these

It would take a large volume to enumerate all the things that have been done by others to give me happiness. Scores of books are in my library because of the suggestions of others, and I have visited many a place that has remained happily in my memory because others told me not to miss it.

All of us ought to have a sign on the doorstep of our mind, reading thus: "Tell it to Others." None of us ever gets too big or too important not to be cheered by encouragement.

Many of the topics written in these talks have come from readers. That is a great help, I often spend hours hunting or thinking for a topic. And then it often takes hours in which to write a single talk, one that can be read in two or three minutes! I have learned that it is easiest to think of topics, and to write, when I have switched off the big city where I live, the crowds, and the noise, and can look space and Nature squarely in the face. It would take a large volume to enumerate all the things that have been done by others to give me happiness. Scores of books are in my library because of the suggestions of others, and I have visited many a place that has remained happily in my memory because others told me not to miss it.

All of us ought to have a sign on the doorstep of our mind, reading thus: "Tell it to Others." And then it often takes hours in which to write a single talk, one that can be read in two or three minutes! I have learned that it is easiest to think of topics, and to write, when I have switched off the big city where I live, the crowds, and the noise, and can look space and Nature squarely in the face.

Some Signs Of Happy New Year For Consumers With Easier Credit Terms In '50

PORK AND EGG PRICES TO SAG:

Washington, Dec. 22 (A)-There were some signs today of a Happy New Year ahead for consumerswith money more plentiful, a drop expected in pork and egg prices, and the easiest installment terms since the war.

The good news for those who like ham and eggs came yesterday from the Department of Agriculture. It reported prospects of a recordbreaking peacetime pork supply in 1950, along with a possible eight to ten-cents-a-dozen drop in the cost of eggs.

Easier Terms

The Federal Reserve Board followed that up today with a report that:

1. "The tendency seems to be toward progressively easier terms for all borrowers" who are buying goods on the installment plan.

2. It expects an expanding money supply next year. This includes bank deposits (both checking and saving) and currency in circulation. A Lesson from the Chinese

THE STORY is told that the Chinese pay the doctor to keep them well, and if they contract illness, the doctor pays them instead. Whether or not this story is true, the general idea is sound. Serious illness often can be prevented by regular health examinations. Form a habit of visiting your doctor often-at least twice a year. If you do not have a family physician, we will be glad to recommend several from whom you can make your selection.

A Lesson from the Chinese

THE STORY is told that the Chinese pay the doctor to keep them well, and if they contract illness, the doctor pays them instead. Whether or not this story is true, the general idea is sound. Serious illness often can be prevented by regular health examinations. Form a habit of visiting your doctor often-at least twice a year. If you do not have a family physician, we will be glad to recommend several from whom you can make your selection.

Find Place That Speeds Up Oysters

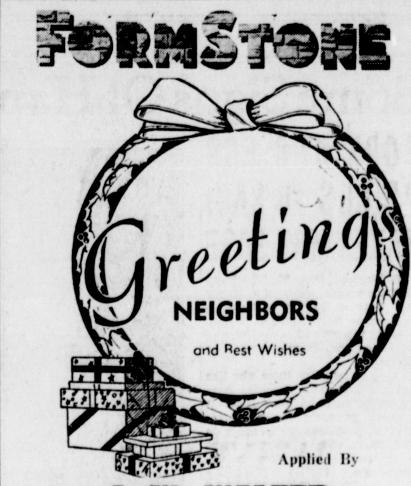

Bouzigues, France, (A)-The discovery that oysters grow four times faster in a salt-lake off the Mediterranean than they do on Atlantic ocean breeding grounds has led to a thriving new industry here.

Four hundred fishermen, linked in a cooperative, have started harvesting the 1949 oyster crop and by April they hope to exceed their 1948 total of 100,000 tons.

The salty basin of Thau, a deep but mud-shored inlet of the Mediterranean, seems to be particularly rich in the tiny animacule organisms on which the oyster lives. Each year thousands of marenne oysters are shipped from the Atlantic breeding grounds of Arcachon to this village for the vital stages of their growth. The achieve in less than one year a growth their less lucky fellows take four years to achieve at Arcachon. Then they are shipped back to Arcachon, where they are again submerged in the Atlantic to get the green color which French gourmets require of their marennes.

A busy Christmas for Long Distance

Long Distance telephone lines will be crowded with calls this Christmas. We'll be working hard to put them through, with thousands of telephone people on the job and lots of new circuits in service. Still there are bound to be delays.

Rather than risk disappointment on your calls to faraway friends and relatives, why not telephone them before Christmas Eve or after Christmas Day? You'll get faster service then Reduced calling rates will be in effect all day Monday, December 26.

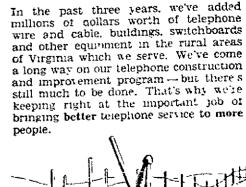

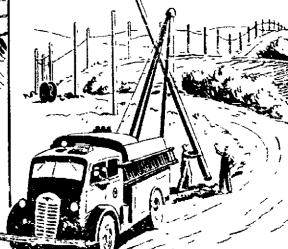

"All join hands and around you go"

There's nothing quite like the friendly spirit you see when good neighbors get together. It might be at a square dance - or on a telephone party line. Good party-line neigh-bors are careful not to interrupt when the line is in use, except in an emergency. They give others a chance to use the line by "spacing" their calls. Find Place That Speeds Up Oysters

Bouzigues, France, (AP)-The discovery that oysters grow four times faster in a salt-lake off the Mediterranean than they do on Atlantic ocean breeding grounds has led to a thriving new industry here.

Four hundred fishermen, linked in a cooperative, have started harvesting the 1949 oyster crop and by April they hope to exceed their 1948 total of 100,000 tons.

The salty basin of Thau, a deep but mud-shored inlet of the Mediterranean, seems to be particularly rich in the tiny animacule organisms on which the oyster lives. Each year thousands of marenne oysters are shipped from the Atlantic breeding grounds of Arcachon to this village for the vital stages of their growth. The achieve in less than one year a growth their less lucky fellows take four years to achieve at Arcachon. Then they are shipped back to Arcachon, where they are again submerged in the Atlantic to get the green color which French gourmets require of their marennes.

WORLD NEWS GLOOMY FOR SANTA'S VISI

Washington, Dec. 22 (A)-If shoppers, hurrying home in the past 24 hours to get ready for the peace of Any one of those stories, if told alone, might seek a gloomy item. Bunched together, the stories make a picture of a world where any Santa Claus has to be looked at against a dark cloud.

Here are some of the stories strung together:

Washington - Military scientists are considering the possibility of planting robot electronic "saboteurs" in an enemy city to steer guided missiles to a target.

Communists Again

Washington - The United States has reached "substantially complete agreement" with its western European allies on the exact weapons each of them will receive under the $1,000,000,000 American Arms Aid program.

Paris - French Communists were busy yesterday with a campaign to sabotage American Arms Aid to France and the North Atlantic Pact. Thousands of leaflets urged French troops to refuse the guns. planes and tanks and other arms which begin arriving soon at French

China - Red China's armies, nearing the end of a year in which they have all but blown the Nationalists off the mainland, yesterday stalked their enemy for knockout blows in the west and south. . .

Moscow - At the celebration of Joseph Stalin's 70th birthday, Mao Tze-tung, leader of the Chinese Communists, hailed Stalin as "teacher and friend of the people of the entire world." And V. M. Molotov, former foreign minister and a powerful member of the politburo, lashed out at Premier Marshal Tito and his aides in Yugoslavia as a "gang of hired murderers and spies in the service of foreign imperialists."

Other Sidelights

Yugoslavia—Yugoslavia a year ago displayed pictures of Stalin as big as any, but yesterday that country, an outcast from the Cominform, accused Russian leaders of "counter-revolutionary" propaganda. Germany-In Eastern Berlin, held by the Russians, anti-Soviet leaflets calling Stalin the "greatest slaveowner of mankind" were broadcast. They were stamped with the letter "freedom movement."

Immediately the Wiggle Waggles | Suddenly he cried out with joy. | Next: A Merry Christmas to All began dumping gum drops from their pockets-gum drops which were really the enchanted Santa Land workers and their story book friends who had come to the party.

Santa gazed sadly at the gum drops heaped on the table. The tip of his own magic wand stuck from Zezop's pocket. "If I could only get that," thought Santa longingly. But he knew there was no chance at all. Meantime, Mr. Dilly and Henry hid in the bicycle shop, not knowing that Santa had led the Wiggle Waggles off their trail. All about the shop were bicycles and tricycles. shining bright with newness. How wonderful they would look around all the Christmas trees on Christmas morning! thought Henry. He forgot for a moment that there very likely wouldn't be any Christmas morning any more.

He felt in his pocket for the little present Tweedleknees had given him. "Do not open until Christmas," Tweedleknees had said. What if there was no Christmas? Would he never know what his only present

While Henry thought about the Christmas he'd never have, Mr. Dilly was planning how to save Henry and Santa. He did not know that the Wiggle Waggles had already cap-

This was his idea: Why shouldn't he take Santa's place and let the Wiggle Waggles capture him while the real Santa escaped!

"Henry," said Mr. Dilly, "lie down and get some rest."

The boy was only too willing to obey. He clutched his Christmas gift in his hand and stretched out on the floor. Instantly he fell asleep. Mr. Dilly rummaged around the shop. The tables and benches had been overturned by the galloping Wiggle Waggles. Wrenches, screw drivers, and pliers were strewn about. Some of the bicycles had been Hunting around, Mr. Dilly found what he wanted. It was an old work suit of Santas'. It was torn and dirty but it was red and fur trimmed.

What a sight Mr. Dilly looked when he had put it on! Long, thin Mr. Dilly with Santa's suit hanging on him like a double sheet. He snatched up rags that lay about the shop and stuffed them in his coat, filling out the empty spaces.

Then he glued wads of cotton to his chin and cheeks. He had no hat so he glued cotton to his hair, too, to make it white and fluffy like funniest sight you ever saw. But anyone looking at him would have known right away that if he wasn't Santa Claus he was someone who was supposed to be Santa Claus.

He ducked out of the bicycle shop and started off for Santa's cottage. He could hear the Wiggle Waggles whooping it up over there.

"Jingle bells, jingle bells," sang out Mr. Dilly, trying to sound very gay and jaunty. "Here comes Santa tage. Instantly he saw Santa all tied up and he knew his whole plan was ruined. But it was too late to do anything. The astonished Wiggle Waggles looked first at him and then at the real Santa and then back Finally Zezop said, "Maybe it's all done with mirrors, maybe not.

Anyway, now we have two Santas.' been the end of everything if it hadn't happened that just about that time little Henry over in the bicycle shop woke up. When he found Mr. Dilly gone he thought the Wiggle Waggles had gotten him and would soon get him, too.

"That being so, there's no reason I shouldn't open my Christmas present right now," he said to himself "After all, it's the only present I ever had and I'm sure Patrick
